

Agritech Manager – Sumi Agro Europe

Sumitomo Corporation (SC) is a global network of more than 72,000 people across 66 countries and is investing in Digital Transformation (DX) across its business divisions and business development units.

Sumi Agro Europe Ltd (SAE) is the regional network in the Life Science Division, responsible for delivering agricultural products and services to our distribution partners and farmer clients across continental Europe. We have 1,000 colleagues in our operating companies, dedicated to delivering added value to our up-stream customers and down-stream clients.

We are now creating a new position for an Agritech Manager for SAE Group to sustain our growth. The Agritech Manager delivers Agritech solutions through our existing distribution and retail companies. The role reports to our Vice President Operations. Location can be in our regional HQ in London or home office based in Europe.

Scope

- Develop our vision for AgriTech in SAE and inform our strategic moves.
- Lead the DX transformation in SAE Group by fostering knowledge and passion for Agritech innovations through an extended network in our operating companies.
- Develop our existing alliance partnerships.
- Scout new opportunities for investments, alliances and acquisitions in Agritech
- Develop internal DX networks in SC Europe and Tokyo HQ business units.
- Implement initiatives to synergise our product and service offers with Agritech solutions, in collaboration with our marketing colleagues in the Group.

Qualifications/Skills/Personal Qualities

- A passion for Agritech, with minimum five years of experience in an Agritech company.
- Operational knowledge of farming practices and challenges.
- Experience in digital networks and/or services.
- Multi-cultural outlook with excellent communication and relationship building skills.
- Able and willing to travel extensively.

Applications

In strict confidence by e-mail to hr.recruit@sumiagro.com

Further company information: www.sumiagro.com; www.sumitomocorp.com

11th May 2021